

WRITING ARTICLES FOR SCIENTIFIC JOURNALS WORKSHOP 6th - 9th JULY 2021

This online course aims to assist early career researchers with publishing their research. It is for any individual, irrespective of discipline, who has not yet published or has not been a lead author for an article, and who has a draft manuscript. The course is interactive. All participants receive a course pack of texts discussed during the course and other documents to assist with writing. For each participant, the facilitator will provide written detailed comments on a revised article draft that he/she writes after completion of the seminars.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

- 1) To develop skills in formulating scientific arguments,
- 2) To understand the structure of scientific articles,
- 3) To develop skills in writing articles for specific journal readerships,
- 4) To understand the process of peer review and technical requirements of journals.

FACILITATORS:

Prof. Tim Quinlan

Prof Quinlan is a Social Anthropologist by training with extensive experience in student academic supervision, grant writing and research methods training. He has published widely in the academic literature.

MEDIUM: Online seminars via Zoom and individual mentoring via email.

LENGTH: Four days via eight 2-hour seminars.

DATES:

|           |                      |   |
|-----------|----------------------|---|
| Tuesday   | 6 th July | (Morning & afternoon sessions at 9.30am & 1.30pm) |
| Wednesday | 7 th July | (Morning & afternoon sessions at 9.30am & 1.30pm) |
| Thursday  | 8 th July | (Morning & afternoon sessions at 9.30am & 1.30pm) |
| Friday    | 9 th July | (Morning & afternoon sessions at 9.30am & 1.30pm) |

COST: R 2 875 per person.

CLOSING DATE FOR APPLICATIONS: 4th JUNE 2021

To apply, follow the link below

<https://redcap.ukzn.ac.za/redcap/surveys/?s=FFJ9MJ8P3E>

The workshop reference number is

1001002

Please direct queries to Emma Lansdell at lansdelle@ukzn.ac.za

